Save $150 Now!

A comprehensive course detailing the new policy and economic drivers of biofuel supply and demand.

Top experts in the fields of biofuels production, marketing, risk management, RINs accounting and environmental compliance will give you all the answers you need to ensure you stay within the law and prosper under these new regulations.

You'll learn...

- Hidden challenges and opportunities in RFS2 and in the transition from RFS1.
- How to craft a bullet-proof EPA audit strategy that will pass the toughest federal scrutiny.
- When, where and how much cellulosic fuel and biomass-based diesel will be available to meet EPA mandates.
- Special session on Canada's new RFS: key compliance and opportunity instruction for the mandate that starts Dec. 15th!
- Under what conditions EPA may put the brakes on blending mandates, or issue its own credits throwing RINs markets into chaos.
- How EMTS, the massive new federal database for RIN transactions, may impact your bottom line.

So you can avoid...

- Incurring $37,500 per day fines from EPA for invalid RINs accounting or improper recordkeeping.
- Wasting biofuel gallons that don't qualify for RINs because they fail to meet mandated greenhouse gas emission cuts.
- Getting kicked out of the RFS program because you missed complicated new producer registration requirements.
- Being blindsided by brand new obligations under the RFS2 rules because the feds changed the definition of "obligated party" while you weren't looking.
- Committing the seven deadliest sins of RINs accounting.

The motor fuels landscape of America is shifting rapidly. There will be winners and losers as EPA enforces wide-sweeping changes to the RFS. Which side of the scoreboard will you end up on?
